

YES DEER

© Carol Wax, 2010

Here we are, that time of year
When people feel duress

To find the perfect gift or gear
For loved ones creates great stress

The bigger picture becomes unclear
By shopping and all that mess

But here's a thought that may sound queer
It's that more is often less

So stop your rushing there and here
Be thankful for ways you're blessed

Find a way to be of cheer
And give your nerves a rest

Walk quietly in the woods with deer
Take a deep breath and just say YES!
